ADDRESS-THE PRAUDS IN FLORIDA. Gov. Chamberlain took the oath of office as Governor-elect of South Carolina yesterday and delivered an outspoken address. He said his life is in the bands of his opponents, yet he denounced them unsparingly. Wade Hampton issued a card in reply to the address. The Northern Democratic amittee visiting in Louisiana 18 on its way home. How the result was reached in Florida is described to-day by W. E. Chandler. It is stated that Attor ney-General Cocke concurred in throwing out presincts where there were Democratic frauds.

CHAMBERLAIN INAUGURATED.

BE IS SWORN BY JUDGE BOONE-WADE HAMPTON

REPLIES PUBLICLY TO CHAMBERLAIN. COLUMBIA, S. C., Dec. 7 .- The Senate and the Republican House passed a bill to-day authorizing any qualified officer to administer the oath to the Governor. A few minutes after 1 o'clock the Republican members of the Senate marched to the House, where Gov. Chamberlain was inaugurated and sworn in by Probate Judge Boone. After being sworn in he delivered a short inaugural address The inauguration was over before it was known in the city, and only persons admitted by the authorities witnessed the ceremony. A company of troops were stationed in the lower corridor, and constantly guarded the entrance. After the delivery of the inaugural address the Legislature adjourned.

After it was known that Gov. Chamberlain had been inaugurated and the character of his address was understood, the following card was issued by Gen. Wade Hampton:

To the Public: The following paragraph appears an address of D. H. Chamberlain, delivered in the Capi-

The gentleman who was my opponent for this office in the late election declared, at 1 am credibly informed, that he holds not only the peace of this city and State but my life in his hands. I do not doubt the truth of his statement. Neither the public peace nor the life of any man who now process the consummation of this policy of fraud and violence is safe from the assaults of those who have forced that policy.

I pronounce this statement infamously false. I, by my mywearied exertions, have endeavoyed to proceed the consumment of the process of the consumment of the consumer of the unwearied exertions, have endeavored to preserve th peace of this State, and I have thus contributed to shield from popular indignation one who has proved himself a disgrace to his rank and a traitor to his trust. The Democratic House met with a constitutional quorum of members holding certificates from the Secretary of State. They confirmed all their acts previously done, and finally scated the Edgefield and Laurens delegations. A committee was appointed to inform the Senate that the House was ready for business, and to ask Gen. Ruger to remove the troops from the State House.

A VIGOROUS INAUGURAL ADDRESS. A COURAGEOUS DENUNCIATION OF MEN WHO HAVE TRREATENED HIS LIVE-NORTHERN COLDNESS TOWARD THE COLORED MAN.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.] COLUMBIA, S. C., Dec. 7 .- Gov. Chamberlain was sworn into office at 1 o'clock to-day by Judge Boon, the Chief-Justice declining to administer the oath. Upon entering the Joint Assembly, all the Democrats being absent, Mr. Chamberlain was received with great enthusiasm. He appeared sad and careworn, but deeply moved. He read his address with much feeling. At its conclusion the Assembly broke into shouls of applause. Several of the colored members were in tears, and all gathered about the Governor, eager to take his hand. The follow-

GENTLEMEN OF THE SENATE AND HOUSE OF REFRE SENTATIVES: I accept the office to which, by the voice of a majority of the people of this State I have a second time been called with a full knowledge of the grave re sponsibilities and difficulties by which it is now attended. No considerations except the clearest conviction of duty would be sufficient to induce me to accept this great trust under the circumstances which now surround us. I re gard the present hour in South Carolina as a crisis in which no patriotic citizen should shrink from any part to which the public may call him. In my sober indement, our present struggle is in defense of the foundations of our Government and lustitutions. If we fail now our government-the Government of South Carolina-will no longer rest on the consent of the governed expressed by a free vote of a majority of our people. If our opponents triumph, I care not under what guise of legal forms, we shall witness the overthrow of free gov-ernment in our State. My chief personal anxiety is that I may have the firmness and wisdom to act in a manner worthy of the great interests so largely com mitted to my keeping. My chief public care shall be to contribute my utmost efforts to defend the rights, to guard the peace, and to promote the welfare of all the

The constant occupation of my time with other duties which I could not postpone has prevented me from preparing the usual statements and recommendations reday I will discharge this duty. Our greatest interest, our most commanding duty, now is to stand firmly each in his appointed place against the aggression and allure ment of our political opponents. Our position up to the present time has been within the clear limits of our Constitution and laws. Nothing except the cowardice or weakness or treachery of our own friends can rob us of

I state what facts show, what overwhelming evidence proves, when I say that if we yield now we shall witness the consummation of a deliberate and cruel conspiracy on the part of the Democratic party of this State to over come by brute force the will of a majority of 2,000 of the lawful voters of this State. I have mourned over public abuses which have heretofore arisen here. I have, ac tording to the measure of my ability, labored to make the conduct of our public affairs honest and honorable But I stand appalled at the crimes against freedon ast public order, against good government, nay, against government itself, which our recent political ex Perience here has presented; and I am the more appalled when I see the North, that portion of our country which is secure in its freedom and civil order, and the great political party which has controlled the Republic for mixteen years, divided in its sympathies and judgment upon such questions. It is written in blood on the pages of our recent national history that no government can rest with safety upon the enforced alavery or degradation of a race. In the full blaze of the great example of retributive justice which swept away half a million of the best lives of our country, we see the American people divided by party lines upon the question of the disfranchisement and degradation of the same race whose physical freedom was purchased at such a cost. And what is more accoushing, there are Republicans who permit the errors which have attended the first efforts of this race in self-government to chill their sympathy to such an extent that they stand coldly by and practically say that the peace of political servitude is better than the abuse and disquiet which newly-acquired freedom has brought. sunce the conduct of the recent election on the part of our political opponents in this State as a vast outrage. Fraud, prescription, intimidation in all forms, folence ranging through all its degrees up to wanto murder, were its effective methods. The circumstances early successful has been this great conspiracy. It is for us, in the face of all dangers, in the face of false or unid friends, in the face of open enemies, to show that we understand the cause in which we are engaged, and hat no earthly sacrifice is too great to secure its triumph

The gentleman who was my opponent for this office in the late election has recently declared, as I am credibly informed, that he holds not only, the peace of this city and state but my life in his hand. I do not doubt the truth of his statement. Neither the public peace nor the life of any man who now opposes the consummation of this policy of fraud and violence is safe from the assaults of these who have one or that voiley. We life our castly who have enforced that policy. My life can easily taken. I have held it, in the judgment of my friends ere, by a frail tenure for the last three months. But here is one thing no man in South Carolina can do, however powerful or desperate he may be, and that is to cause me to abate my hatred or cease my most vigorous resistance to this attempted overthrow and enslavement of a majority of the people of South Carolina. Here I stand. I can do no otherwise. God be my helper. Wife and children, nearer to me than are the ruddy drops that visit my sad heart, and all other considerations must give way before the solemn duty to resist the flual success of that monstrous outrage under whose black shadow we are assembled to-day.

THE FRAUDS OF THE ELECTION. TTORNEY-GENERAL COCKE ASTONISHES DEMOCRATS BY VOTING TO REJECT DEMOCRATIC PRECINCTS -THE FRAUDS OF THE BOLDEST CHARACTER-WHERE THE VOTES WERE THROWN OUT.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.] CHARLESTON, S. C., Dec. 7 .- On Tuesday at Tallahassee, immediately after a telegram had been received from Louisiana announcing that Gov. Hayes had the State by about 3,400 majority, the wires were cut about four miles from Tallahassee. The Democrats did not mean that any more news of that sort should come until the Florida board had finished. The dispatches sent by Republicans at 3 o'clock on Wednesday morning announcing the result were sent on horseback 30 miles to Monticello. The Board of State Canvassers have acted with conspicuous fairness and propriety in conducting the canvass. No Democrat will complain that his side was not treated with great courtesy, or that there was not the fullest opportunity up to the last possible moment for them to submit proofs and arguments. At the final hearing on Monday evening, when the last arguments were being read, and the Republican final argument on Monroe County had been heard, the board allowed the Democrats to introduce the oral testimony of witnesses to contradict facts commented upon in the argument.

No one of the distinguished lawyers or Northern

Democratic visitors will deny the fairness or liberality of the modes of procedure adopted by the Republican majority of the board. Even Attorney-General Cocke came to realize the necessity, when acting officially, of laying aside partisanship and adhering to well-settled rules of law in acting upon returns. It will be remembered that he sent an imprudent telegram of Nov. 14, asserting that he was a member of the Canvassing Board; that Tilden and Drew had carried the State, and that the Radicals should not be allowed to cheat them out of it. This telegram The World of the 29th approves, and says: "Cocke has done nothing to disqualify himself to be an impartial judge." The truth about the Attorney-General is that he is a lawyer of learning, and anxious, when not hampered by Democratic party pressure, to administer the law as he understands it; but he is too easily induced by the desperate and reckless Democrats about him to act contrary to his own real and honest convictions. This view of his character is the clew to his action in the closing work of the board. He has no doubt whatever that the honest and legal vote of Florida was for Gov. Hayes. He has doubt whether it is Republican on the State ticket, and he wants to make it Democratic if he can for the benfit of his party.

The precise action of the board I cannot give. It was about as follows: Additions to Democratic votes-Clay, 23; Baker, 136; Jefferson, 59; Leon, 2. Reductions-Hamilton, 173; Jaskson, 315; Orange, 7; Franklin, 10; Hernando, 5; Waldo Pre cinet, Alachua, 9; Manatee, 235; Monroe, 342; Calhoun, 1. These changes increase the Hayes majority to about 900, and elect the Republican State ticket and both Congressmen. The board rejected the Democratic claim that Archer Precinct in Alachua should be thrown out. The sworn testimony made at the time, and overwhelming testimony from the voters themselves and from credible and consistent election officers, proved conclusively that 399 Republican votes were cast. contrary testimony was from uncorroborated and admitted perjurers. That is all there is to the case of Archer. In Clay they restored 23 Tilden majority which the county canvassers had thrown out because the inspectors appeared not to have been sworn, it being shown to the board that they had been in fact sworn. They concluded finally to count all the precinct votes in Baker County, it not sufficiently appearing that the county judge, sheriff, and justice had good reasons for throwing ou of them; but in doing this they did not decide in any way against the validity and formality of the canvass and return showing a Republican majority. nor recognize the so-called return of Coxe, the clerk.

They sustained the Republican return in Duval County, it appearing that all three officers were present at the canvass, although the Democratic county Judge contumaciously and improperly refused to sign the return. The precinct returns were also before them, showing the true vote to be as returned. They allowed a reduction of 59 votes in Jefferson County as the sole result of an immense mass of Democratic testimony put in very late, and claimed as showing 900 fraudulent votes in the county because the names were not on a canvass made by the Democratic Committee, which was of course utterly valueless as a true guide. In Leon County also they reduced a large preposterous Democratic claim of illegal voting to two. They threw out a precinct vote in Hamilton County because of gross violations of the election laws relative to guarding the ballot-box during the election. The board here acted on the advice of Attorney-General Cocke, who felt compelled, against his party interests, to vindicate the requirements of the law. In Jackson County two precincts were thrown out, It had been shown that the ballot boxes had been kept out of sight of the electors. They all had to vote through high windows in one precinct exactly six feet, and in the other several feet high above the standing place of the voters, whose ballots were, of course, at once lost to their view and went they knew not where. In fact, at Friendship Church only 44 Republican votes were returned, while it was proved by testimony of all the persons themselves and by others that 66 actually voted for the Hayes electors. In Campbellton 77 Hayes votes were returned, and it is conclusively proved, with no counter-evidence, that 132 Republican votes were actually cast. The proof of a conspiracy to give a fraudulent majority, not by illegalities in conducting the election, but by frands actually committed, amply justifies the board in rejecting, as they did, the entire precinct vote.

The Jackson County proofs are impregnable. They were prepared under the direction of Gen. Lew Wallace, who also summed up and argued them. I defy any Democratic Congressional committee to break them, no matter how much figuring the Democrats of the county may dare to commit. The county, this year reported at 98 Tilden majority was one of the strongest Republican counties in the State, giving from 760 Republican down to not less than 350, until all the white Republicans were killed or driven off. Eighty-one unpunished mur ders have been committed there, including those of John L. Finlayson, a native Southernor, and surgeon in the Rebel army, and Col. John Q. Dickinson, a native of Vermont, a Darmouth graduate, permanently settled as a mill owner. Both were shot solely to get rid of them as prominent Republicans, and as holders of the office of county elerk of Jackson County, Dickinson having succeeded Finlayson. In Waldo Precinct, Alachua, as the Democrats admitted, they allowed men from an emigrant train to vote, and only swore them that they were residents of the United States. In Manateo County there was no clerk of the county to give notice of the election, and no registration made or used, and so evidently illegal was the election that one-third of the voters did not participate. The Democrats stopped the Republican agents sent to take evidence, because they had no pass from Mr. Pasco, Chairman of the rejected the vote.

The case of the Third Precinct of Key West, thrown out for illegalities, was carefully considered by the board. The election laws of Florida, as expounded by Attorney-General Cocke, are very strict as to the care of the ballot-box, and in requiring the canvass to be finished and the result declared in public and certified before an adjournment. In West, at all the other precincts, count and declaration were made before adjournment, but in this Third Precinct, where the vote was less, the count was not finished that night, but the inspectors left the voting place, taking the box and registration list, and all evidence of the election, to the home of one of the two Democratic inspectors, leaving nothing in the hands of the Republican inspector. The next forenoon they met at 10 o'clock, at a sponge warehouse in a different precinct, and there, from 10 until 2 o'clock, continued to canvass, and at last certified the vote. No possible honest reason existed for this violation of the law. On the contrary there had been evidence of fraudulent purposes during the election which this violation of law was intended to cover up. In this state of the facts the Republican members of the board, Messrs. McLin and Oswgill, submitted the question to At torney-General Cocke, saying distinctly that they would be guided by his opinion, and would vote exactly as he did. The Attorney-General decided as he had in the Hamilton-Bunty case that the action of the election officers was so illegal and irregular as to create a presumption of fraud and to vitiate the whole poll, and thereupon the board unanimously decides to reject this precinct with its Democratic majority of 342.

After passing upon all the counties the board passed a resolution that they had finished the canvass of all the votes on both the National and State tickets, and adjourned to meet the next day at 3 clock only to sign the statement of the vote for State officers, which required considerable time for footing. They, however, at 3 o'clock Wednesday morning, signed their certificate to the Governor showing 930 majority for the Hayes electors, and the Governor forthwith usaned his certificates to Messrs. Humphreys, Pearce, Hallien, and Long. W. E. CHANDLER.

THE MEXICAN REVOLUTION. FLIGHT OF PRESIDENT LERDO-PORFIRIO DIAZ PRO

CLAIMED PROVISIONAL PRESIDENT - IGLESIAS

HAVANA, Dec. 7.-The English steamer has arrived from Vera Cruz and bringe startling intelligence from the City of Mexico, Dec. 1. On Nov. 16 Portirio Diaz defeated the Government army under Gen. Alaterre near Huamantla, about 100 miles distant from the City of Mexico. Although he had much the largest force, Diaz was nearly defeated, after four hours' fighting when Gen. Gonzalez came up with 4,000 men, turning the scale and completely destroying Gen. Alatorre's army. Puebla fell on the 18th by revolt of the troops in favor of Diaz. Lerdo de Tejada, with his Government, fled from the capital on the 21st, escorted by about one thousand men. He made for Morelia, where, in imitation of Junez, he will aftempt to maintain the constitutional Government. His train consisted of 16 carriages, 100 extra animals and $500,000, but his escort began to desert him the next day, and on the third day he had but 300 men. When last beard from he was in the State of Michoncan. Before leaving the capital President Lordo appointed elrie, another Diaz man, President of the City Municipality. Perfect order reigned in the city during the in erregnum. Gen. Diaz and staff entered the city on the 22d in the midst of the greatest demonstrations. In telligence is received daily of the surrender of cities, towns, and garrisons. Vera Cruz has also declared adherence to Diaz. The railroad is now running uninterruptedly.

Gen. Diaz declared that the necessities of the situation equired that he should assume the Presidency of the Republic, and on the 30th he was officially anno-Provisional President. He invited the merchants of the city to meet him at the palace, where he told them he anted a loan of $500,000 at 1 per cent per month, which was granted. The question of paying the first in-stallment, $300,000, due the United States in January on the claims awarded, is now being discussed. Gen Diaz cannot possibly raise money above his immediate wants, and will not be able to pay it.

THE APPALLING LOSS OF LIFE. PREVIOUS ESTIMATES OF THE NUMBER DEAD VERY LITTLE TOO LARGE.

THE CORONER PLACES THE TOTAL AT 292-THE POLICE REPORT 248 BODIES TAKEN FROM THE ABSOLUTELY CORRECT-DISMEMBERMENT AND ON-IMPORTANCE OF CELERITY-NECESSITY OF SPEEDY BURIAL-DETAILS CONCERNING THE IDENTIFIED AND MISSING-CONDOLENCE AND RELIEF FOR THE BEREAVED.

The number of dead by the Brooklyn disaster is officially reported by the coroner at 292. The precise total will probably never be known, owing to the fact that the dismembered limbs of many were scattered in the process of digging in the ruins. The number identified and removed up to last evening was 178. The lists which are published below show a total of 370 identified and missing, but it is impossible to avoid duplication in many instances, and this will account for the unnatural excess. Many bodies will have to be buried at once, without further attempts at identification, as putrefaction has already set in. The coroner's jury was yesterday impaneled and commenced an investigation. Preparations for the private interment of many bodies were begun yesterday, and the arrangements for the burial of the unidentified, at public expense, will probably be made to-day.

PROGRESS OF THE MOURNFUL WORK.

PEW ADDITIONAL RODIES FOUND IN THE BUINS VESTERDAY-THE RIDEOUS CONTENTS OF THE MORGUES-THE SORROW-STRICKEN STRIVING TO IDENTIFY RELATIVES AND FRIENDS-A COR-ONER'S JURY IMPANELED.

The reports published yesterday of the extent of the appalling calamity in Brooklyn caused by the burning of its principal theater were unhappily little exaggerated. The actual number lost will probably never be known; for in many instances remains were reduced by the fire to a single charred bone, while in the process of digging for the bodies the limbs of some were separated and scattered until there were no means of finding out where they belonged. An entire coffin full of such fractions of bodies was collected yesterday afternoon. The police kept tally of the number of boxes removed. counting each box carried out on Wednesday as a single body, and they thus recorded 240 as the full number recovered. But it was subsequently discovered that the workmen in the pit of the theater-or the charnel-house, as it has since come to be called-often placed two, and sometimes three bodies or remnants of bodies in a single box; and hence a discrepancy exists between the reports of the police and of Coroner Simms. The statement of the latter, as officially made to the jury impaneled yesterday, gave the number of bodies recovered and deposited in the Morgue in Willoughbyst, and the improvised Morgue in Adams-st., at 209, or eight below the estimate in THE TRIBUNE yesterday morning. To this number a few may yet be added, but this is not probable; it is ardently hoped and firmly believed that the aggregate will eventually be reduced instead of augmented. The further examination of the ruins was continued yesterday by relays of laborers employed in place of the firemen and police. Both these forces were almost exhausted by the continuous hard toil of two nights and nearly two days, and yesterday afternoon the 13th Regiment State Guard relieved the police on guard duty, and hired workmen continued the labor of exploring the ruins for other bodies. Besides the box of scattered limbs only four bodies were recovered yesterday subsequent to the discovery of the remains of the two actors, Claude Burroughs and H. S. Murdoch, who perished in or near their dressing-rooms. The two Mergues were crowded yesterday, both within and without. The coroners wisely made it incumbent on all persons wishing to view the remains to apply at their office for passes. The line or queue of applicants stretched for two blocks from their offices, and during the entire day was constantly lengthening. Before noon it was composed almost entirely of those having a personal interest in the sad task of looking upon the disfigured dead, for the merely curious soon dropped out of the line, unwilling to wait patiently their turn to obtain a pass only after close questioning by the coroner. Many persons standing in this line were observed to b weeping silently, and the looks of all were or that saddened character which betokened fear of loss of friends and relatives. Those who obtained passes hurried to the nearest Mergue in Adams-st., and thence, when unsuccessful in their search, hastened to the Morgue at Canton and Willough by-sts. A cordon of police at each place kept back the surging mass of curious people of all ages and sexes who filled every part of the street. Within, the scenes were of the most painful description. Ghastly arrays of charred bodies in all attitudes betokening the agony in which they died; women sobbing as if heart-broken-and men, too-over remnants of humanity utterly unrecognizable save by jewelry or keepsakes, or body marks found upon them; undertakers and their assistants crowding and cramming distorted figures into boxes and coffins, and conveying them to rude hearses and wagons outside; black robed priests and Sisters of Charity aiding here to conceal epulsive deformities wrought by the flames, and there to console hearts more broken than the poor bodies were; callous police keeping order where it seemed chaos must naturally come again-these and like incidents and scenes were the marked characteristics of the horrible hours within the charnelhouses. Many bodies were removed from each Morgue during the day, but enough remained last night to make the spectacle at each frightful beyond endurance. There were no means of preventing early putrefaction of the bodies left lying there, and at midnight last night the smell was almost unendurable. Some disposition of these remains-they cannot be longer called bodies-will have to be made to-day or to-morrow or dangerous results to health may be the consequence.

Coroner Simms yesterday impaneled a jury and they viewed the remains and the reins and obtained some information concerning the disaster. But it will be several days before they can arrive at any conclusion as to the cause of the calculty.

The search for the bodies has now ended practically, and for the future the chief attention will be paid to the disposition of the dead and the relief of those made destitute. The latter good work was begun yesterday at Col. Sinn's New Park Theater by its manager, and will be continued by others in this city, as well as Brooklyn.
